

LearnPhilanthropy

The Field-wide Hub
for Grantmaker Learning

LearnPhilanthropy began in 2010 after years of field-wide interest in supporting and improving learning and development for people working in philanthropy. The Council on Foundations and the Forum of Regional Associations of Grantmakers took the lead as incubators of the initiative. Momentum and commitment grew at a symposium of 75 stakeholders who defined LearnPhilanthropy's vision and encouraged it to move forward.

LearnPhilanthropy asks you to imagine:

- Learning resources from multiple providers all in one place.
- A wider audience for content providers.
- A searchable catalogue—for you, your staff, your members.
- Online peer learning and advice.
- Field learning data to guide new offerings.
- Learning as essential to effectiveness.

Dozens of foundations and philanthropy support organizations have now joined the effort, which is guided by a planning committee of field leaders.
